JAPANESE KILLED

Idaho Falls, Dec. 17.—A Japanese named Tom Konishi, who has been a resident of this section for a number of years, and who made a marked success of farming, was killed in a runaway accident last evening about five miles north of this city. Nothing is known of what occurred, as he was alone, but some $600 in checks and money was found upon his person, no other theory is advanced.

Two women discovered the body, and notified Jack Fowler, a rancher, who told E. C. Barnes, the man who had stopped the team near his place. The marks on the body showed several deep bruises where he had struck the frozen ground.

PRaises PARK CITY

Park City, Dec. 17.—The regular monthly dinner given by the members of the Park City Commercial club was held last evening at the new Park City hotel, and a pleasant affair it proved to be for the thirty members present.

W. G. Farrell, secretary of the Salt Lake Commercial club, was present and discussed "The Work That the Utah Development League Hopes to Accomplish."

The members of the Park City club were thanked for the part that they have taken in helping to develop Utah and asked to continue the good work.

Mr. Farrell dealt at some length on the opportunities of this state and declared that the fondest hopes of all would be realized during the next few years.

CHARLES GAMMON TO SUCCEED ELDRIDGE

Washington, Dec. 17.—The president today nominated Charles Gammon, assistant assayer of the Salt Lake City assay office, to be assayer to succeed Joseph U. Eldredge, Jr., the present incumbent.

Gammon, who was a resident of Colorado, was appointed assistant assayer from the state of Utah. It is not known what his politics are, and his nomination was made at the instance and upon the recommendation of the treasury department and without regard to the recommendation of the local Democratic organization. His salary of $1600 per annum as assistant will be increased to $2000 as assayer. It is expected there will be no opposition to Gammon's confirmation from the Utah senators.

It is believed the nominations of Ray and Nebeker for the places of district attorney and marshal, respectively, will reach the senate this week. The action of the department of justice in submitting their names, to the president is deemed equivalent to a nomination, as the procedure in the White House in cases of this kind is mainly routine.

The appointment of Mr. Gammon came as a distinct surprise to local Democrats yesterday, inasmuch as his application, which was filed in Washington shortly after the resignation of J. U. Eldredge, Jr., did not have the recommendation of any of the party leaders of the state. It was generally supposed locally that the place would be given to John W. Geiger, who had been endorsed by the state committee and by National Committeeman W. R. Wallace.

Mr. Gammon is a practical assayer and came to Salt Lake from Denver ten years ago. He lives at 379 Tenth avenue.

The action of President Wilson is believed to indicate that the assay office will remain in Salt Lake and that it forebodes a policy of having practical assayers at the head of such offices.

Mr. Gammon last night had not received official notification of his appointment and was not prepared to make any announcement of his future conduct of the office to which he has been appointed.

FACES CONSPIRACY CHARGE

Pocatello, Idaho, Dec. 17.—Robert Melvane, sentenced to six months in the county jail for bootlegging and now serving sentence, was tried Monday on a second count involving violation of the liquor laws and is subject to another fine or additional sentence.

The case of Walter Grant, who is charged with conspiracy to burn the home of County Attorney Smith and other crimes, is creating much interest. So far the officers have been unable to find out who supplied the money that Grant was offering for the commission of certain crimes on the persons or property of officers of the law during the session of the grand jury here last spring. Grant's trial has been set for December 22.

BANK CLERKS TENDER PRESIDENT BANQUET

Salt Lake, Dec. 18.—Nearly 125 members of the Salt Lake chapter of the American Institute of Banking attended a banquet at Maxims last night in honor of the national president of the institute, H. J. Dreher of Milwaukee. President Dreher is touring the west, visiting the principal chapters of the organization and installing new chapters. He is on his way home, leaving here today for Denver, from where he will go direct to Milwaukee.

President Dreher was the principal speaker and his instructive address was devoted largely to a discussion of the efficiency of the bank clerk. He said that the bank officials of the future would be drawn from the rank and file of the clerks, and that the clerk must develop a thinking capacity if he expected to fill the important positions open to him. He called attention to the interest of the American Bankers association in the organization. The "A. B. A." as it is known among banking men, changed its constitution at the last national convention in order to permit local chapters of the institute to become sections of the American Bankers association. He said that the American Institute of Banking now had a membership of 15,000 and that it was rapidly increasing.

BULGARIAN ARRESTED

Bingham, Dec. 17.—Stephen Mincheff, a Bulgarian, was arrested here today by Deputy Sheriff Julius Sorenson on a charge of wife desertion made by his wife, Mary D. Mincheff in suing his wife for divorce, according to the story he told the police, the case being scheduled to come up in the divorce court this week.

Mrs. Mincheff says they were married more than a year ago in Denver and that they came to Bingham about six months ago. It was short afterward, she says, that her husband deserted her. Mincheff came to the local police station with his wife, believing that he would not be arrested because he was suing for divorce. The fact that his wife charges him with desertion before he received a divorce, however, was considered sufficient by the officers to arrest him. He is held in jail in default of a $500 bond.

KEYS IS DISCHARGED.

Bingham, Dec. 17.—Lack of evidence was given as the reason for dismissing the case of David H. Keys, charged with disturbing the peace yesterday when he is said to have made remarks to the effect that he "hoped Lopez will kill a few more." He had a hearing today and was discharged.

SEEKS HEALTH ON COAST.

Pocatello, Idaho, Dec. 17.—A. B. Stevenson, superintendent of the Idaho division of the Oregon Short Line left yesterday for California accompanied by his family. Mrs. Stevenson is recovering from a severe attack of typhoid fever and this trip is taken in hopes that it will hasten her recovery. Mr. Stevenson will return as soon as the condition of Mrs. Stevenson warrants.

TRIAL JURY LIST FOR JANUARY TERM

County Attorney David Jensen and County Treasurer Joseph Storey have drawn the names of sixty persons for two juries to serve in the district court next month, one as a trial jury, the other as a grand jury, the latter being the first of its character to be drawn since statehood. The 35 trial jurors will serve both divisions of the court.

Of the 25 names for the grand jury only seven will be selected to act. The entire panel will be examined on statutory qualifications and those disqualified will be eliminated. From the remaining number the seven names will be drawn.

The list of trial jurors follows: John W. F. Volker, Joseph H. Meyers, Ogden; John Holmes, Wilson; Fred F. Bond, Ezra Richardson, William H. Drabbe, John S. Corlew, John H. Jenkins, Ogden; B. S. Chandler, Wilson; Henry H. Hadman, John M. Dishop, Lemuel G. Sisman, Walter

BINGHAM MINE TO BE CLOSED FOR A WEEK BY THE SHERIFF

Bingham, Dec. 17.—One week from today the bulkheads erected in the upper levels of the Apex mine will be removed and another search made of the mine. This was the statement made tonight by Sheriff Andrew Smith. The sheriff said that he believes another examination of the mine will reveal Lopez either dead from starvation or so exhausted from lack of food that he will readily submit to arrest.

In the meantime guards will be stationed at every bulkhead and throughout the upper mine levels. The report by guards that they had seen smoke issuing through the bulkhead on the Andy tunnel caused many among the sheriff's forces to believe that it was created by a fire that Lopez had probably started for warmth. Sidney Black, a guard at the Andy tunnel, tonight visited the Minnie tunnel and reported that he had not tied an odor of smoke.

Miners declare that the smoke might be from the blacksmith shop on the No. 7 level, which has filtered through to the upper workings. This theory was discounted tonight by Sheriff Smith following an investigation of the Farrell tunnel, where smoke was also reported. A party led by the sheriff advanced several hundred feet into this tunnel and smelled fumes of a sulphurous nature. The theory is now advanced by the sheriff that these fumes gave off a light smoke, or an odor similar to that of smoke from burning wood. These fumes are thought to be generated by the heat in the mine after it has cooled off outside with the setting of the sun.

Sheriff Smith still continues to receive many letters pertaining to the hunt for Lopez, some of them containing suggestions as to how to proceed to capture the Mexican. Some are sent in a humorous vein, while the authors of others are really serious. One, a Blackhawk miner, Peter Johnson of Highland Boy, even went so far as to suggest the idea of getting African lions, letting them loose in the workings and then closing up the mine.

Charles Woods, former chief of the Salt Lake fire department, came to Bingham today and was enrolled as a guard by the sheriff.

FAVORS AN INCOME TAX IN GEM STATE

Boise, Idaho, Dec. 17.—That Idaho should have an income tax law for the purpose of relieving its tax burden and thereby place the burden of taxation upon those most able to bear it, was the claim made to the commissioners of the thirty-three counties of this state today in their annual session here by J. W. Brose, president of the Ada County Taxpayers' league. The proposal created unusual interest and was given serious consideration.

Tonight the commissioners and assessors in joint session with them were banqueted at the Owyhee hotel. During the afternoon Judge W. C. Dunbar of the juvenile court delivered an interesting address on the work of that tribunal.

"When you base your taxes on income you do not miss the moneyed man," declared President Brose during his address. "Government protects the financier in greater proportion than the laborer. His income is made safe by reason of a safe government and he should be willing to pay his share. With the income tax in this state it would be possible to do away with double taxation."

RETURN FROM STOCK SHOW

Logan, Dec. 17.—Professor John T. Cairne III and the Utah stock-judging team returned from the International Live Stock show, which was held in Portland December 8-15. The Utah team scored fourth, being only sixty-four points below the winning team. Despite the fact that the team only secured fourth place, individual numbers scored higher than most of the members of the winning team.

Utah boys scored highest in judging Shorthorn heifers, second place in judging fat steers, and third in judging Jersey cows, Holstein bulls and Poland-China hogs. Professor Cairne says that the lack of high-grade animals of some classes in Utah was largely the cause for the team not standing higher in the general score.

The members of the Utah team are G. R. Parry of Salt Lake, W. L. Pond of Lewiston and Clinton Kjar of Mandi. Utah was also represented at the show by a carload of fancy steers exhibited by the Hanson Livestock company.

THE COMPROMISE

"How did Jack and Mabel agree over their dispute about the marriage service?" Mabel told Jack if he would make good on the all-his-worldly-goods endowment proposition, she would make the promise to obey.

PRINCESS WILL GO TO THE MOUNTAINS

New York, N. Y., Dec. 17.—Princess and Princess Ayman de Fancigny Lunce of Paris are in New York, preparing for a trip to the Rocky mountains, where they will hunt for big game. The princess, who is the former Mrs. Joseph Stickney, and an American, is a devoted huntress.

The princess has had a remarkable life. She began it in Waltham, Mass., as the daughter of a keeper of a general store. As a young woman she went to the White mountains to visit a girl friend. There she met Joseph Stickney, multi-millionaire mine and hotel owner. This was in 1890 and in 1893 they were married. Stickney brought his young wife to New York and spent a fortune in establishing her in society. He died in 1903, leaving his widow $10,000,000. With her daughter Carolyn she went to London, where she ultimately became a member of one of the most exclusive sets in the English capital.

After a long period of courtship, Mrs. Stickney married the prince last summer, after she had stipulated that there should be no marriage settlement. The prince is head of the noble house of Savoy, and controls a large private fortune.

BANNOCK COUNTY HAS GONE "DRY"

Pocatello, Idaho, Dec. 17.—While the result of today's local option election in Bannock county is not absolutely certain, there seems little doubt that the "drys" have won by a small margin.

At 9:45 the "wet" majority of 641 in Pocatello is overbalanced by 743 "dry" majority in the county precincts. Following are the "dry" majorities heard from: Portneuf 49; Grace, 146; Inkam, 34; Soda Springs, 1; Robbin, 135; Bancroft, 42; Marsh, 183; McCammon, 30; Denney, 25.

Interest in the contest was marked and the total vote cast was heavy, considering the fact that the issue was almost entirely local.

STATE BEEKEEPERS TO HAVE CONVENTION

Salt Lake, Dec. 18.—The program for the convention of the State Beekeepers' association, which will be held on January 29 in connection with the Farmers' roundup at the Utah Agricultural college in Logan, has just been issued. The convention will be held under the auspices of the extension division of the school. The program follows: Enrollment, faculty room. Call to order, room 125. President's address. Appointment of committees. Report of secretary.

H. C. Henager, Salt Lake. "Rearing and Introducing of Queens."

"Production and Sale of Honey."

"Wilford Belliston, Nephi."

"Foul Brood Treatment."

James Hacking, Vernal.

"Wintering Summer Stand Cellar."

N. E. Miller, Logan.

"Middle Man and Sale of Honey."

A. G. Anderson, Beaver.

School of Music, U. A. C.

"Life of the Honey Bee" (lantern slides). Dr. E. G. Titus, U. A. C. Reports of committees and election of officers.

An exhibit of bees and beekeeping appliances will be open to the beekeepers and other visiting farmers and housewives in the college museum.

In addition to the Beekeepers' convention the following meetings will be held during the roundup, which begins January 26 and continues to February 8:

Housekeepers' conference, January 26 to February 7.

State Poultrymen's convention, January 29-31.

State Dry-farmers' convention, January 31.

State Dryfarmers' convention, February 2.

Utah Development league, January 20-31.

State poultry show, January 26-31. It is expected that these events in connection with the important sessions of the roundup will attract large crowds to Logan during that time. Special rates will be in effect on all the railroads.

MANY ATTEND RECEPTION.

Provo, Utah, Dec. 17.—The Knight woolen mills' public reception, conducted today, struck a popular chord. Streams of people, many of whom have never before visited the big mill, were going and coming all day, and at the close of the day 257 persons had responded to the invitation, and judging from the expressions of interest and commendation by the visitors on leaving, all were pleased with the varied and extensive lines of beautiful goods exhibited, and surprised that they had not before really known what the mills were doing.

CUPID'S DARTS FIND WORK.

Pocatello, Idaho, Dec. 17.—John Taylor of Sunny Dell, Idaho, and Elsie M. Beccard of South Gate, Ky., were married yesterday at the court house. The ceremony was performed by Judge Knowles. The match is the result of a courtship since childhood. They will reside at Sunny Dell.

Thomas C. Lanzley of Pocatello and Floyd C. Pattishall of Cave Spring, Ark., were married yesterday by District Judge Stevens at the court house. The bride recently arrived from the east for the ceremony and the couple will reside here.

A marriage license was issued yesterday to Alfred J. Lewis of McCammon, and Lillith O. Browner of Hawkins. Each of the contracting parties is 18 years of age.

CAUGHT BOOTLEGGING.

Pocatello, Idaho, Dec. 17.—As a sequel of the recent complaint filed by County Attorney C. Douglass Smith, charging that bootlegging was not only countenanced in the county jail, but was actually permitted in connection with the prisoners in which he filed ouster proceedings against Sheriff Lowry, this forenoon, Steve Strates was arrested while handing a bottle of liquor through the grating of a cell to a prisoner. Strates has been a frequent visitor to the jail and has been under suspicion for some time.

BOUNTIFUL CAR LINE.

Salt Lake, Dec. 18.—The new street railway line to Bountiful was inspected yesterday afternoon by officials of the Utah Light & Railway company, including President W. H. Bancroft, General Manager J. S. Wells, Secretary F. H. Knickerbocker, and Chief Engineer L. L. Dagron. The officials expressed themselves as pleased with the advance made with the new line. Yesterday was the first time a passenger car has been operated over the line.

URGES CARE TO PREVENT WASTE OF HOLIDAY FEARS

Washington, Dec. 17.—The spillover of dressed poultry during the unseasonable warm weather preceding Thanksgiving day, according to the specialists in the department of agriculture, was unprecedented. All over the country, market reports around Thanksgiving told but one tale, somewhat as follows: "Stock on sale and coming mostly in poor condition." "Many of the turkeys are streaked with green." "Many of the chickens are wet, musty and sour." "The ducks and geese are 'heated and greasy.'"

In view of the scarcity of meat foods and their high prices, the specialists regard such a universal waste as took place in the Thanksgiving poultry supply as almost a national calamity. They are, therefore, urging poultry packers to handle their goods along the line suggested by the department through its bulletin and through its poultry demonstration car, in order to prevent a repetition of this waste at Christmas time.
